Reno and Truckee Valley (Nevada Monthly for March 1

Truckee Valley (or Mendows, as it is generally called) is situated on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, about eight miles from the California and Nevada State line. The valley is almost circular in form, is surrounded by mountains and has an acreage of about 40,000 acres. It derives its name from the river ri nning through it and which furnishes in abundance of water for irrigation purposes. The early settlement of Truckee Valley dates back to 1857, when John Stone, Charley Gates and Sol Geller located ranches at what is now known as Glendale Soon afterward G W Huffaker, Wm Anderson and John ein portion of the valley About 1861 M C. ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

James Mayberry—1,080 acres, situated in extreme western portion of valley, value $25,000.

These names have been selected from different portions of the valley and will give an idea of the valuation of land. The Central Pacific Railroad Compiny has some fourteen miles of road in the valley, and the Virginia and Truckee Railroad about eight.

Near Beno, in the Peavine range, a great many mines are located, among which are the New York, Poe, Golden Floece and Emma, none of which are at present being worked, however.
